It all begins in Waterford, New York - the country's oldest incorporated village and the meeting place of the Mohawk and Hudson Rivers, where the highest canal lift in the world starts your westward cruise ascending 169 feet through a series of five locks up and on your way through the Erie Canal. Or, you can cruise northward for 60 miles to Lake Champlain and have history unfold itself while you experience the Revolutionary War sites along the way.

The Erie-Champlain Canal Boat Company is strategically located at the most eastern end of the Erie Canal and the most southern tip of the Champlain Canal, offering easy access to both canal systems.

The narrow Old English design of the canal boats makes them easy to handle by the novice operators with a minimal three hours of training. The New York Canal System is a relatively safe body of water, protected by close land and easy-to-access anchorages, and it is easily navigated by the channel markers placed and maintained by the State of New York, making it preferable for family vacations. The historic orientation of such a vacation puts the vacationers not only in touch with each other, but also with the roots of their forefathers.

The Erie-Champlain Canal Boat Company offers you an enchanting way to experience a world few people ever have a chance to see! You will travel in comfort and safety aboard Erie-Champlain Canal Boat Company's fleet of custom-designed boats. Descending from a long heritage of European and American boat building, each vessel—with its classic lines, rugged steel hull, brass trimmings and rich colors—has its own personality and charm. The boats are rented to you fully equipped, providing the ideal floating home-away-from home for enjoyable hours of tranquil cruising.

Unlike mariners of yesteryear, you will travel in comfort, safety and style while indulging in the pastimes you enjoy most.

Awaken to the crisp fresh air of a summer's morning as the smell of coffee lures you to breakfast with shipmates on the fantail.

The mist clears revealing a lovely day ahead of activities or just cruising along waterways that abound in wildlife and splendid scenery.

The cruising season begins on June 1st and ends on a colorful note with peak fall foliage throughout October. Although charters are usually by the week, special arrangements can be made for extended or shortened charters based upon availability.
